Virtue of the Month - Justice (Fairness)

This month, our virtue is Justice, and we will be learning all about fairness. Justice is treating other people fairly, as you would want to be treated yourself. Classroom teachers will be facilitating lessons, activities and discussions about justice throughout the month. In addition, I will be visiting each classroom for a counseling lesson. We will be reading That's Not Fair: A Book About How Fair is Not Always Equal by Courtney Butaroc. This sweet story helps students understand that not all students have the same needs, tools, interventions, etc. Students will learn that everyone gets what they need but not everyone always gets the same thing.

A Season for Giving

This holiday season, we are grateful to partner with the JPW Helping Hands Nonprofit Organization for the 20th year! The organization collaborates with our schools to provide holiday assistance to Glassboro families in need. Each year, monetary donations, gift cards and toy donations are collected from Glassboro staff, their families & friends to benefit our students during what can be a stressful time for families. Thank you to Glassboro staff, family and friends for supporting this project each year!

Have a happy, healthy Holiday Season!
